

Way2Go Links

Many resources exist that enable people to become aware of, understand and use alternative transportation modes. A strong network has grown up in the Bay Area over the last decade, of organizations that share a common vision-one in which use of the single occupant vehicle is limited to situations where it is required and where alternative forms assume a much larger role in regular commute and transportation choices. Included below are the names of "alternative" resources including addresses, telephone numbers, emails and web sites.
