Subject: Planning Dept.'s failure to inform public re cell tower applications
Date: Wednesday, May 26, 2021 8:19:37 AM

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the organization. Be cautious of opening attachments and clicking on links.

Dear Jonathan,

Earlier today I received an email from the Planning Department's Amy French informing me that you have approved three new small cell node wireless installations in Palo Alto. (Ms. French's email is appended below.)

As you can imagine, residents have many questions about the process you employed in approving these installations and about the basis for your decisions.

But for the time being, I would very much appreciate it if you would answer just one question: Why didn't you inform the public when the Planning Department deemed the applications for these facilities complete—that is, reveal to residents weeks ago that the applications were now under active consideration by the Planning Department for approval?

This would have afforded residents the opportunity to review the completed applications ourselves and make our views known to you, to City Council and to the Architectural Review Board—an opportunity that is a core City of Palo Alto policy and value.

Instead, only now, after the fact, are residents being told 1) that you have approved, at breakneck speed, applications no one knew had even been deemed complete, and 2) that residents' only option is to pay a $600 plus fee and—within fourteen days, no less—file an appeal of your decision.

As you know, I have repeatedly asked to be kept informed about wireless installation applications, including this set. And the last I was told about this set is that it was deemed incomplete. That was in February, 2021. (Ever since City Manager Shikada made the decision not to keep the Wireless Hot Topics updated, information provided directly by your department has been the only realistic way for residents to keep abreast of the status of cell tower applications.)

Please understand that my question—namely, why were residents not told weeks ago that these applications had been deemed complete?—is not rhetorical. I, and many others, would like you to explain this egregious lack of transparency, a lack of transparency which has had the effect of cutting residents out of the cell tower approval process.

Sincerely,

Jeanne

Avenidas is Palo Alto's non-profit Senior Center. Before remodeling (and making the space smaller, more sterile, and less community oriented), it served La Comida, the Senior lunch program. But with the remodel came a small, pricey little cafe, and no more was La Comida serving lunches there. So Masonic Temple let La Comida use its space. Now they have declined and so La Comida is being moved to a church on the edge of the downtown, much less convenient for seniors. Why can't La Comida go back to this so-called non-profit senior center? It is the city's non-profit senior center and much more more central to downtown seniors. It would mean that Avenidas would better serve the local seniors, with more traffic, and more community engagement. Why should local churches take the responsibility for this senior program? Let's move La Comida back to Avenidas, supposedly a non-profit city entity.

Sincerely,
Roberta Ahlquist

Dear Council and People interested in Low-income Housing in Palo Alto:

753 Alma, not 801 Alma has no sink in the bathrooms. If you have not visited these HUD funded units, you need to do so. They are very small. Would you and your family live there?

Keep the Downtown and College Terrace Libraries! Replacing the Downtown Library w/ offices is a horrible idea, Mr. Filseth! We have too many offices in Palo Alto, many of which are vacant and will continue to be vacant because of the rental costs.

We need LOW INCOME HOUSING, NOT OFFICES. The Roth Building would be an excellent site for low-moderate housing. We already have a museum across the street. The token steps you have taken towards getting low-income housing built are shameful.

To: <roberta.ahlquist@sjsu.edu>

Dear Roberta,

In case you missed it, one of our sponsored bills, AB 1401, is making headlines across the country.

AB 1401 eliminates expensive parking mandates near transit and in walkable neighborhoods, and it would reduce the cost of housing in these areas.

Even though major papers like the Los Angeles Times have come out in support of AB 1401, we still need all hands on deck to pass this bill through the Assembly Appropriations committee.

Please, take a few minutes to email the State Assembly in

support of AB 1401.

Bills have until the end of the week to make it out of Appropriations, meaning we only have a few days to act and ensure this critical legislation moves forward.

Support AB 1401 »

Passing AB 1401 would go a long way towards helping California meet its climate goals by reducing our state's dependence on personal automobile travel.

If California wants to get serious on climate, we need to adopt approaches that minimize sprawl development and make it more affordable for Californians to live near good transit. We need to pass AB 1401.

So Roberta, take a minute to email the Assembly Appropriations Committee and tell them why YOU support AB 1401.

Together, we can build a more affordable, sustainable California. And that work starts with passing AB 1401 through committee.

Mr. James Eggers
Executive Director
Sierra Club : Loma Prieta Chapter

Dear Mr. Eggers,

Palo Alto Forward would like to commend you for your strong letter of 4/29/21 to Mayor DuBois and Palo Alto City Council Members regarding the lack of sufficient affordable housing in our community and the importance of infill-housing as a means to address documented climate change, sustainability, and environmental goals. It was a needed statement reiterating the importance of infill-housing as a documented means of reducing our carbon footprint and green house gas emissions.

You reiterated the importance and value of infill-housing, especially adjacent to transit and jobs, and its importance to creating inclusive communities.

The Sierra Club Board of Directors' adopted Urban Infill Policy is exemplary. It reads: The Sierra Club believes affordable house is a human right. Further, all neighborhoods should be open to people of all income levels and backgrounds.

As you further noted, the City's history of not approving and building enough housing is well known; by the end of 2019, the City of Palo Alto has met only about 25% of our RHNA assigned housing totals. Housing adjacent to transit is especially critical.

The jobs-housing imbalance continues to exacerbate traffic congestion, parking demand, air pollution and respiratory impacts. Addressing these impacts would also decrease our carbon footprint.

The lack of housing supply for workers of various incomes drives up rental and housing prices and directly impacts the recruitment and retention of restaurant, hotel and service industry public sector workers.

We could not agree more that "If Palo Alto wants to continue to be seen as a champion of climate action and positive social change, it needs to be more flexible in the types of housing it allows in many of its neighborhoods."

Your stated position on this issue is important to the thoughtful and comprehensive discussion of climate change problems and ways to make a difference. I hope you will continue to speak up on these issues in partnership with other community members, environmental and housing advocates. It's needed.

Sincerely

Gail A. Price

PA Council and PA Recreation Department:

When wil Palo Alto begin to desegregate the 'Wall Street of the West'? (otherwise kown as Palo Alto). Let's rename Foothill Park after LaDoris Cordell, a long time Palo Alto social justice activist . I sent the letter below to Ms Cormackin February, but others might benefit from a reading:

Dear Council Member Cormack:

You were the only council person who considered the impact of a fee on people with a limited income wishing to visit Foothill Park. We believe that the park should have NO fees, as parks all over the bay area are, for the most part, open and free to all. This park has been paid for. The city has ample funds for cleanup, and if needed people can donate to a park fund, and even help with cleanup days. After the holidays we visited the park during 'peak hours' (between 10am and 3pm) several times, and found the park clean, quiet, and we counted only 18 cars in the parking lots. The council once again has reacted in the interests of keeping some folks out of the park. What a limited vision we have for the health and interests of the larger community. Thank you for your concerns. Let's hope that the Parks folks, and Council reconsider their reactive response and drop the fee.

Dear Mayor DuBois and council members,

The council has a chance to give positive feedback to an mixed use, mainly housing project on Alma on a site close to jobs, services, shopping and transit and at the same time correct a premature decision with regard to the application of PHZ projects in R-1 neighborhoods.

The Alma project would add housing and reduce office space on a desirable site.

The Wellesley project would add housing oriented to both the missing middle and low income residents. That site, like the Alma site, is close to jobs, services, shopping and both freeways and public transit.

Both projects meet a city goal of projects with 20% BMR units.

Taking any housing options off the table either with regard to PHZ zoning or the NVCAP area before the housing element site review process even begins strikes me as reckless and irresponsible and puts the city at legal risk since it is very likely that we will easily find suitable sites and policies to incentivize 6,000 units or even a bit smaller if the city wins an appeal.

One of the requirements of the housing element is to identify and overcome challenges to meeting our housing goal.

I understand that there is political pressure to to oppose state law and many projects but your job as the Mayor has said is to proceed with a good faith effort to meet ALL of the housing element update requirements.

Please let the housing element process develop findings before taking housing options off the table.

Stephen Levy
